

CARE WORKER CRISIS?

Apologise Reinstate Compensate

40,000

Care Workers forced out of their jobs over covid jab 'mandate'

- Forcing out 40,000 care staff was wrong in principle and in practice
- We now know C19 jabs do little if anything to stop virus transmission
- Consultations showed public (57% to 41%) and care sector didn't want 'mandate'
- So why did government in England do it anyway? Scotland didn't, Wales didn't
- They reversed the law but damage was done
- Our most vulnerable elderly citizens are now paying a very heavy price

"My care job was all I knew. I loved it. I had to say goodbye to everyone I was so close to, because of a personal choice on a medical intervention. I am still unemployed, with two children." - Louise, 15 years' experience

"I've lost everything. I've lost my job. I've nothing else to lose." - Helen, 28 years' experience

"I felt like I lost my family, losing that job. I'm doing cleaning now, but it doesn't fill me with a purpose like care did." - Lucy, 11 years' experience, single parent

"In hindsight I am particularly ashamed of my vote to dismiss care workers who did not want to receive the vaccine. I very much hope that the 40,000 care workers who lost their jobs can be reinstated, and indeed compensated" - Danny Kruger MP
